

BEFORE AND AFTER-READING ACTIVITIES

Before Reading:

In small groups, imagine a situation in which two girls are having a conversation. One of them is Sarah, a Tinder addict. She shows her friend the latest photos of her 'Tinder men' and reads their taglines. Draw pictures of 4 young men and think up a tagline for each of them. Finally, create a dialog between the two girls in which they talk about the men and their taglines.

After Reading:

In groups of four, discuss the relationship between Sarah and Joyce as it goes from good to bad in the course of the story. Create a scene in which the two girls are interviewed about their relationship, first Sarah and then Joyce. Assign the four roles (two interviewers, Sarah and Joyce). Think up four or five questions to ask each of them and carry out the interviews.
